

Shri Velukkudi Krishnan addresses Bhavan students

The morning of August 12, 2013 turned out to be divine and auspicious for the students of Bhavan's Matriculation Schools in Coimbatore as the renowned Vedic scholar and exponent Sri Velukkudi Krishnan Swami interacted with them for two hours.

The programme started with bhajans rendered by the school's bhajan team which won the second place recently in the inter-school bhajan competitions held in the city. The Swami was impressed with the Bhajans rendered by the young artists and commended them.

In his address to the students, Sri Velukkudi Krishnan Swami spelled out five practices to uphold excellence in one's own life and conduct, which are Saatvic Ahar, Nithya Pooja, Ahimsa, Daya and Danam.

Shri Krishnaraja Vanavarayar, Chairman of Bhavan's Coimbatore Kendra received the first copy of a biography of Lalgudi Jayaraman titled 'An Incurable Romantic', written by Smt. Lakshmi Devnath and released by music Director Ilayaraja in Chennai.
